Best of all, some employers will sponsor your training through tuition assistance and reimbursement programs.

Your Course Overview

Unit 1 Blackstone's Skills for Success

In this lesson, you will discover how you learn as well as your learning style. You will understand how you learn best by reading about intrinsic versus extrinsic motivation, field dependence and independence, self-efficacy and self-determination. Visual, auditory, and kinesthetic learners will be discussed along with the differences between them. You will also receive some tips regarding your study space, the best time to work, and goal setting. Learning strategies, along with note-taking and memory tricks, are also an important part of this lesson.

Unit 2 Office Technology & Keyboarding

Lesson 2 covers how computers are used in the office today, the different types of computers, and the parts of a computer system. Basic keyboarding skills will be introduced. In this lesson you will also learn about the Internet, URLs, search engines, and e-mail. Office technology will be discussed, including office telephones, different types of telephone calls, fax machines, photocopiers, multipurpose machines, transcribers, digital cameras, and wireless communication.

Unit 3 Management Practices & Principles

In this lesson, you will read about the role of a supervisor as both a manager and leader. You will read about creating an effective workplace environment through communication, a positive work climate, team building, and conflict management. You will also learn about the roles a manager plays in delegation, developing job expectations, employee recruitment and selection, training, performance evaluation, and discipline.

Unit 4 Creating an Effective Workplace Environment

Lesson 4 provides an overview of how interpersonal communications affect workplace strategies, including how the various roles in the office can function together and how to use feedback, goals and incentives for increasing productivity. This lesson will introduce you to the fundamentals of effective communication, including maximizing your speaking and listening skills and proper use of body language to communicate messages. You will also learn about the benefits of working in a culturally diverse environment, and how to overcome communication barriers caused by diversity. Finally, this lesson will explore team building strategies.

Unit 5 Self-Awareness and the Team

This lesson explains the importance of human relations in business and the challenges it provides. You will learn about self-concept, self-awareness, and the relationship between self-esteem and work performance. This lesson also discusses the risks involved in disclosure and the impact of making assumptions. You will read about good attitudes and job satisfaction and how attitudes compare to values. The final chapter in this lesson covers the theories of motivation.

Human Relations: Strategies for Success

Unit 6 Human Relations in Groups

Lesson 6 introduces the role of communication at work, listening skills, and nonverbal communication. You will discover why people join groups and how they develop, as well as barriers to group effectiveness. Leadership styles are compared and contrasted. Your text explains how to build a team, compares and contrasts models of decision making in teams, and discusses corporate culture. You will also learn about emotional intelligence and emotional control.

Unit 7 Managing Change, Conflict & Customer Relations

Lesson 7 provides an overview of the seven major life changes, seven stages of personal change, and the models of organizational change. This lesson will introduce you to the concept of creativity and how to harness it for groups and problem solving. You will also learn about conflict, including analysis and management, in addition to stress and stress management. Finally, this lesson will explore customer service.

Unit 8 Thriving in a Changing World

This lesson covers how human relations are affected by our diverse society. It addresses prejudice, discrimination and sexual harassment. You will discover the importance of a code of ethics and how group goals influence ethics. You will also read about productive workplaces and time management. Finally, this lesson explores how human relations play a role in your future success.

Unit 9 Critical Thinking Skills

This lesson helps students develop their critical thinking skills, including use of inference and judgment, identifying strong conclusions, persuasive strategies, and deductive reasoning. You will also read about metacognition, the process of thinking about thinking, and how it builds critical thinking skills, as well as interpreting and using critical theories.

Unit 10 English & Written Communication

In this lesson, you will gain knowledge about the English language and written communication. This information is important to the successful allied health professional. Begin with parts of speech, then review parts of a sentence, pronouns, verbs and agreement, and finally, sentence types and punctuation. This lesson is a great grammar tutorial. You will also learn about writing in active versus passive voice, paragraph formation, and topic sentences; and you gain some valuable tips for business communication.

Unit 11 Time & Stress Management

This lesson discusses how to minimize stress and maximize productivity in your personal and professional life by analyzing your values, habits, and daily interruptions. Multiple worksheets and exercises are included, as well as valuable tips for prioritizing and setting goals.
